Volume 32 No. 2
The Battle of Hubbardton

This issue of the Quarterly contains a military history of the Revolutionary War battle of Hubbardton written by Carmine A. Pacca, who became an active member of the Rutland Historical Society in 1973. The article is based on many primary sources. There is a selected bibliography, with comments, in addition to the endnotes. Pacca's writing lauds the Continental soldiers, and includes many detailed numbers and names.
