

Rutland Historical Society Quarterly
Rutland Fire Clay
Vol. 13, No. 4

This is a quarterly that discusses the Rutland Fire Clay Company. The Perkins family founded the company after they discovered a clay mine. This quarterly was written in 1983 for the 100th anniversary of the company. It discusses the products the Rutland Fire Clay Company made, such as clay paint, plasters and stove ware. The article also talks about the many changes that happened to Rutland Fire Clay Company, especially after the two fires the company factories faced. It also tells us about the personal lives of the Perkins family.
