

Rutland Historical Society Quarterly
Vol. X No. 3
History of CVPS

This quarterly recounts the history of Central Vermont Public Service Corporation, or CVPS. It discusses the roots and history of the predecessors of the company, as well as the early history of the CVPS itself. This quarterly contains a timeline of CVPS and includes pictures of workers setting up the electrical grid and maintaining the lines. The quarterly also discusses “CVPS’s earliest effort with Alternative Energy,” which consisted of a plan to put wind turbines on Grandpa’s Knob. The quarterly also includes early letters printed in full.
