

Rutland Historical Society Quarterly
Vol. XXV, No. 1
Brehmer Brothers

This issue recounts in full the life of Philip, Louis and Bertram Brehmer, written by the granddaughter of Philip Brehmer. The sons of a male German immigrant and a N.Y. born German extraction-Pennsylvania Dutch woman, the three Brehmer brothers developed an interest in music and jewelry. This passion culminated in the family opening Brehmer's Music Store. Louis also owned a jewelry store. The jewelry store would eventually be sold, but the brothers would continue owning and operating their music store at different locations. Louis also developed a passion for photography. Before going off to study in New York, he dedicated his time and effort to photographing Vermont scenery and its wildlife.