

Rutland Historical Society Quarterly

Vol.4, No.1, 1974

West and Main Streets

This quarterly with a painting of West and Main Streets on its cover is an amalgamation of a various topics.

It opens with three book reviews: a biography of Moses Strong of Mineral Point; a Pictorial Field Book of the Revolution; and the Journal of the Reverend Samuel MacClintock ,1760.

The Center fold is of an undated photograph of Rutland's Bicycle Club Rink, whose earliest existence was that of a shirt factory and a plant of the Marble City Electric Company.

A painting of the former Mayor of Rutland, John Carder in 1904 a gift from Miss Marjorie G. Smith is included; and last but not least memories of the "Rutland Navy" by George J. Cowalt, with a photograph of the ship, presented by Mr. Scieszka, a member of the crew.
