

Rutland Historical Society Quarterly

Vol.45, No.1, 2015

F. A. Tucker Inc. General Contractors Rutland Vermont

“F.A. Tucker Inc. General Contractors” a corporate history contributed by David G. Zsido, author of several previous articles for the Quarterly.

The Company a relatively small utility construction company, played an important role developing the Vermont Electric and Telephone Network. The article traces the development of the company, beginning with its first major job of building the Central Vermont Weybridge Hydroelectric Facility in 1950, and its further successes in the following years.

The job requirements are well documented and accompanied with a number of descriptive photographs.