“Proctor American Legion Post 6 Baseball History” written by David G. Zsido researches the Proctor High School’s impressive number of championship teams.

He traces the history of American Legion’s Post 6, after the First World War and its part in the evolution towards American Legion baseball established in 1926.

A highly detailed article with several photos of teams and coaches, it provides an interesting addition to the history of baseball on a local level. A partial list of coaches and players of Post 6 Legion Teams is included on the back cover.
