

Rutland Historical Society Quarterly

Vol.5, No.2, 1975

Green Mountain Boys

The cover, described in detail within its pages, symbolized the Capture of Fort Ticonderoga by the Green Mountain Boys in 1775 and the founding of Vermont in 1777. Specifics of the battle are included, as well as list of activities to commemorate the 200th anniversary.

A book reviewed by Dr. James J. Cullins of The Ideological Origins of the American revolution by Bernard Bailyn and the full length poem The Armorer's Errand; a Ballad of 1775 by Rutland's Julia Dorr first published in 1890 complete the Quarterly.