"The Bridge
Builder"

An old man going along a highway
Came in the evening cold and gray
To a chasm vast and deep and wide.
The old man crossed in the twilight dim
The sullen stream had no fear for him,
But he turned when safe on the other side
And built a bridge to span the tide.

"Old man", said a pilgrim near
"You are wasting your time with building here.
Your journey will end with the ending of day,
You never again pass this way,
You have crossed the chasm deep and wide
Why do you build at eventide?"

The old man lifted his old grey head
---"Good Friend, in the way that I have come," he said,
"There followeth after me today
A youth whose feet must pass this way.
This chasm which has been as naught to me
---To that fair-haired youth might a pitfall be.
He, too, must cross in the twilight dim,
Good friend, I am building the bridge for him."

William Allen Dromgoole

The graduating class of 1970 pauses briefly, before continuing to cross the Bridge of Life ahead, to view in retrospect significant progress of the past four years.

The path looked long and unsure to us as Freshmen. Sophomore year found us trekking along with new confidence in friendships formed and studies achieved. Before we realized it we were Juniors, half way across and daily more conscious of our professional goal at the other side. Now as Seniors we have reached our destiny and look ahead with hope and enthusiasm to a productive future.

Standing on the bridge, we feel the strength that we have gained as builders of CSJP in its developmental years. To the accomplishments of former graduates, the class of 1970 adds its contributions, to those who follow - we leave a bridge to cross to knowledge, happiness and success.

Our President

Congratulations to each member of the Class of '70. Throughout the four years you have been with us changes have taken place in all areas of our college community. Many of you have had an active part in these changes. But if you stop to reflect a moment, you will realize that one area has remained unchanged. The aim of the college is still to assist students to seek and value truth. Truth will lead all of us to be all that we are capable of being for Him, who is the Way, the Truth, and the Life.

Another constant factor here at the college is our love and concern for each other. So our prayers, best wishes and continued interest follow you as you leave to take a responsible place in your respective communities.

May your ideas, ideals and actions be the leaven of a greater Christian Community. Thus you will make the contribution to society for which you have been prepared here and so assure the fulfillment of the dream of those of us who dared to start this small teacher training college where the practice of honesty, responsibility, courtesy, charity, are still in keeping with our goals.

Dedication

" . . . Good friend, in the way that I have come," he said, "there followeth after me to-day a youth whose feet must pass this way . . . I am building the bridge for him."

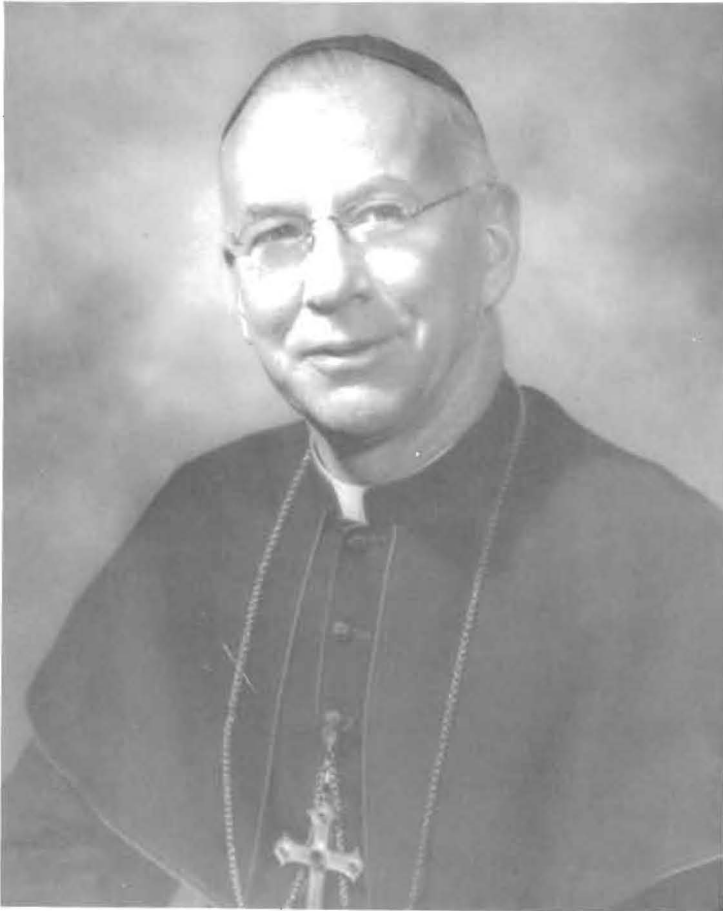

The Class of 1970 has found many a sturdy bridge to cross at CSJP, thanks to those who " . . . turned when safe on the other side, and built a bridge to span the tide;" bridges to learning and maturity; to happiness and self-fulfillment; to the future and the teaching profession. In the tomorrows ahead we will cross many bridges, mindful of the crossing here. With gratitude and pleasure the Class of 1970 dedicates its yearbook to one who often turned to build a bridge for one of us, Mother Mary Concepta. Your dedication and sincere concern has helped us to span many chasms in the past, and prepared us well to span those which we shall meet in the future.
