The Year 1987

With your sense of humor, and your cheerful manner, you made our years at St. Joe's more bearable. Because you talk with us, rather than at us, we look upon you as a friend. As we got to know you, we would no longer dread going down to classes because we knew you and Beauty would be there to just say, "Hi, how is your day going?" or "does everyone have books for a certain class." Those extra minutes you took to ask us how our day was going really meant a lot. Therefore, we the class of '87 dedicate our yearbook to you:

Class Will

- I, Sally Forrest, will a set of his/her towels to the remaining hallway members. Good luck next year.
- I, Jayne Cox, leave to Judy Lipka (Latka): one toilet paper dispenser, a lifetime supply of fliptop colgate, and several pots of dirt.
- I, Carlotta Simonds, leave a later quiet hour to Pam, Stephanie, Lianne, Brian, Tina, and Gina.
- I, Justine Timbers, leave the bathroom empty.
- I, Denise Miller, leave my "bodacious ta-tas" to Kathy Henaghan, and my ego too.
- I, Jackie Tatro, leave my bathtub to Jean Cleveland.
- I, Sharon Lawton, leave to President Miglorie my personal philosophy; "What goes around, comes around."
- I, Barb Brayman, will Steph a jar of cookies and to Matt a plunkin and a vac.
- I, Peggy, will my offensive moves for computer football to Ty Stacy and my red satin teddy to Geri Brown.
- I, Steve Lanpher, will both my basketball ability and any mild mannered temperment to Scott Moore so he can finally get some playing time, so he can handle his lady friends.
- I, John Lazenby, will my organization skills to my good buddy Ed Pease, because Chester could certainly use them.
- I, Jeff Hickey, will to Ed Pease my "lounge".
- I, Kim, will to Paul, PTYP; John, a B.T.W., and to Ed and true blue a pack of lifesavers.
- I, Judy McGuire, leave Carlotta the winner in the Carrot Marothon, which entitles her to a large jar of peanut butter and a two year vacation in the Pease Corpses. Have Fun.
- I, Denise Krawczyk, will the hallway freshmen, freshmen roomates when they become serious students. And the traditional hallway party.
- I, Karen Nacewicz will to Ed Pease P.M.A., to Mike Austin a swamp water, and to Dr. C- thank you from the "guardian of the hot corner".
- I, Joe Lawrence, hope all my friends will enjoy St. Joe's as much as I have. Some times are rough, but we all make it through them with the help we get from each other. I will always remember this about St. Joe's.
- I, Shaun Lapoitavan, will my voice to Patty Miglorie, to use and abuse.
- I, Cherisse, will to suite 6, present and future, the recipe to Koo-Koo juice and to John I leave "the bat", to Maribeth I leave 1-800 fire dept.

It is an understatement to say that putting our 1987 yearbook together took a lot of time and energy. This is the year of the "resurrected" hardcover yearbook—our first since 1979, and I would like to recognize the following people whose dedication said much to me personally and without whom this project could never have been completed. Thanks to: Brian Pariseau, Mike Cullen, Patty Giroux, Ann Marie Little, and of course, Peggy Stattel whose efforts selling ads made the difference between funding this project and waiting for next year.

Thanks also to Jayne Cox, Cinda Payton, Barb Brayman, Racquel Fernandez, and our advisor, Lou Palazzo.

Sincerely,

Jackie Tatro,
Editor in Chief
